SERMON ON "THE GOOD SAMARITAN"

DR. SCOVILLE TOLD HOW EXEMPLIFIED IN THE LODGES.

ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS AT SERVICE

The Normal Students Also Attended the Service in a Body—Nearly Every Seat in Tent Occupied.

The usual monster crowd was at the tent-tabernacle last night to join in the singing and to hear Dr. Scoville's sermon. Nearly every seat in the tent was occupied, and although the results of missing one night of the campaign on account of the storm could be seen plainly at first, it was not long until the spirit of religion again held sway.

The Odd Fellows and the Rebekahs occupied one section of the seats and the Normal students attended the services in a body.

Before beginning his sermon, Dr. Scoville asked Brother Miller to offer a prayer for decision—that is, to ask Jesus to give strength to those who could not make up their minds, so that they might confess Him at the meeting.

Then he began his sermon on "The Good Samaritan." He gave the modern application of the work of the good Samaritan and showed how it was fully exemplified in the lodges.

"I know the work of lodges," he said. "I belong to three of them myself. Many are the stories that can be told of their labors, of their care of the widows and orphans, and of their protection of the weak and helpless. But a lodge does not take the place of religion. It wasn't made to save a soul but to make its members better men."

"Moreover," continued Dr. Scoville, "Where do the lodges get their idea of helpfulness and humanity? Why, from the Cross, of course. Jesus taught the first great lesson of humanity when He said, "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

Dr. Scoville made a plea for orphans. He asked every childless home to make room for and rear a child. He told of an Odd Fellows home where hundreds of children are cared for. He scored women who fry beefsteak for dogs instead of spending their time on children.

"God pity the woman who lets her dresses drag through the streets while she kisses the cold nose of a brindle pup. The woman is to be pitied, but the dog is to be pitied more. He wasn't made for that kind of a life."

"Some people think that when they have given their word to become Christians, that when they have been baptized their work is done. They consider prayer a "pickling" proposition. This is not so. The two biggest words in the world are work and worship, and one is no good without the other."

The invitation to go forward was given at the close of the sermon. The audience rose and sang the hymns while numbers of those who had not already lined up walked down the aisle to acknowledge Christ.

One small family, a mother and a father with a tiny child asleep on his shoulder, walked up to the front and took places among those "lined up."

"Give this family a cheer, folks," said Dr. Scoville. "In after years this father will be telling his child how he gave himself to Jesus while she slept on his shoulder."

A negro boy was among the converts. As he came forward Dr. Scoville told about the missionary that he and Mrs. Scoville kept in Africa to convert the negroes there. "I would as soon be the means of saving a soul here as in Africa" was his comment.

An old man, 80 years old and a soldier, responded to the call. He was heartily cheered, and his going was the inspiration for numerous others to "line up." Normal students, farmers and their families, young business men and business girls were among those who made their decision at last night's service.

Scoville Sayings

I'd rather win a soul to heaven than make a man president of the United States.

If a man comes down the aisle for Christ he can make his calling and his election sure.

The two biggest words in the world are work and worship.

If the church had done all it should have done there would be no use for lodges.

The lodge wasn't made to save souls, but to make you a better man.

We need a religion of unspottedness as well as a religion of helpfulness.

Some people in Maryville have worn out more cushions than they have half-soles.

Some persons are saints until they get an automobile. Then the devil gets in the carburetor and plays havoc with them.

A powerful atmosphere is a prayer-laden atmosphere.

Some persons act as if they thought prayer a "pickling" proposition.

The trouble with the church is that there are too many second, third, fourth and fifth class Christians.

God pity the woman who lets her dresses drag through the streets while she kisses the cold nose of a brindle pup.

I praise God that Maryville had strength enough to put the saloons out of a job.

REVIVAL NOTES.

Woodmen night tonight.

Business girls, Friday night.

Masons and Eastern Stars, Saturday night.

Palestine, tonight.

Sunday morning a consecration service will be held. At that time, as Dr. Scoville expressed it, the fruits of the revival will be gathered in. There will be calls for volunteers for the ministry, for missionaries and for secretaries for Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. work.

Mrs. Scoville's song, "An Old Fireside," was heartily applauded by the audience last night. This song pictured a scene by the fireside, featuring the worn Bible which had been a comfort to each member of the family.

Business girls' last luncheon was today at noon.

Sunday afternoon Dr. Scoville will give his famous booze sermon—the sermon that is said to have made Colorado go dry.

Brother Holliday read the Scripture lesson last night.

Brother Miller offered a prayer for decision at last night's meeting.

Tonight the old soldiers will come to the meeting in a body. All of the patriotic songs will be sung and Mrs. Scoville and Mr. Forsythe will render appropriate selections.

In speaking of old soldiers' night, Dr. Scoville said: "I like to see the old soldiers who are not ashamed of their colors, and who are not ashamed of being soldiers of the cross."

Free will offering will be taken Sunday night.

At the close of last night's service Brother Hale gave a short talk, telling the people what was expected of them at the free will offering next Sunday. When he had finished he was cheered and applauded for some minutes. The other three pastors received ovations also.

One of Dr. Scoville's last sermons will be on amusements. He says that he intends to attack "The World, the Flesh and the Devil," and that every

M'DANIEL HEARING

WAS CONTINUED FROM YESTERDAY UNTIL FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

THE GRAND JURY AT WORK

Made a Thorough Examination of the McDaniel Premises—Witnesses Being Examined Today.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 28.—The preliminary hearing of Oscar D. McDaniel, prosecuting attorney, charged with the murder of his wife, set for 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Justice Wilson's court, did not begin on schedule time, principally on account of a difference of opinion between the lawyers on the point of whether the grand jury investigation takes precedence of the proceedings in the justice court.

Charles F. Strop, L. C. Gabbert and Kay G. Porter, attorneys for McDaniel, wanted to proceed with the preliminary, as they expected to make it the medium of procuring bond for McDaniel, who is now in the city jail. Bart M. Lockwood, special prosecutor, on the other hand, wished to drop the justice court proceedings, at least for the present, and let the case rest with the grand jury. Lockwood wrote a note to Justice Wilson yesterday afternoon, saying that he (Lockwood) was busy with the grand jury and would have no time to take up the preliminary, and asking the magistrate to continue the hearing.

When asked as to what action he expected to take Justice Wilson said:

"My understanding of the law is that when a man is charged with a crime he has a right to a preliminary hearing, if he wants one, and if Lockwood wants me to continue the hearing, or certify the case up without a hearing, he'll have to show me the law for it."

At 2:24 o'clock Oscar D. McDaniel, accompanied by his father, Len D. McDaniel, was brought in the courtroom and the defendant seated himself beside his counsel. When Justice Wilson learned that Lockwood had gone to the McDaniel home he continued the hearing to Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A thorough examination of the McDaniel premises was completed this afternoon by the grand jury, charged today to investigate the killing of Mrs. McDaniel. Examination of witnesses began today.

Special Prosecutor Lockwood promised almost unbelievable bits of testimony in the McDaniel murder case. Th story of Mrs. McDaniel's missing diamonds, how she found them and on whom, being the final scene which followed between husband and wife, is the opening chapter as the grand jury is scheduled to hear it today.

MRS. HENRY PORTER DIES

Resident of Quitman Succumbs to Uremic Poisoning—Funeral Services Tomorrow at Quitman.

Mrs. Henry Porter, 63 years old, died at her home, one and one-half miles north of Quitman, at 6:30 o'clock last evening. Death was due to a general breakdown in health, caused by uremic poisoning. The funeral will be held from the family home, near Quitman, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Rev. R. H. Murphy wil lconduct the service. Burial will be in Quitman cemetery.

Mrs. Porter is survived by a husband and three children, Mrs. John Anderson of Maryville, Benton Porter of Quitman and Mrs. Arthur Jordan of Quitman.

COFFEYVILLE IS PREPARING

Extensive Plans Are Being Made for Charles Reign Scoville Campaign, According to Mr. Miles.

Dr. Charles Reign Scoville will be warmly received in Coffeyville, Kan., where he will start his next campaign next Tuesday evening. Floyd F. Miles, his publicity manager, returned from Coffeyville today. He addressed twelve prayer meetings there last night, and says that extensive plans are being made for the revival, and that enthusiasm is high.

Notice.

All members of Sedgwick post, No. 21, G. A. R., are requested to meet at post room at 7 o'clock sharp Thursday evening for purpose of attending Scoville meeting. All old soldiers invited, both blue and gray.

JAS. CRAIG KILLED

IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT AT PORT ANGELIS, WASH.

BURIAL WILL BE HERE

Mr. Craig Was an Old Resident of Nodaway County and Had Lived in Maryville the Past Seven Years.

Word was received by Mrs. Omer Strong of Pickering that her father James Craig, formerly a resident of Maryville, had bee nkilled in an automobile accident at Port Angeles, Wash.

Mr. Craig left Maryville after the death of his wife, July 9, and was in Washington living with one of his daughters, Mrs. N. O. McKee. The details of the accident are not known yet.

The body will be shipped to Pickering, where the burial will take place. No definite arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Mr. Craig is an old resident of Nodaway county. He came to the county thirty-four years ago, and until seven years ago lived on a farm near Pickering. Mrs. Craig, to whom he was married in 1866, died July 9 in St. Francis hospital following an operation for cancer. Mr. Craig was 72 years old.

Five children, nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild, survive. The children are: Mrs. Omer Strong, Pickering; Mrs. H. O. Swinford, Spokane, Wash., Mrs. N. O. McKee, Port Angeles, Wash.; Tildon Craig, Fort Benton, Ind., and Ed Craig of Wallace, Idaho.

REV. H. C. BOLEN MARRIED

Former Maryville Minister Weds Shelbina Woman at Macon Tuesday Evening.

The Rev. H. C. Bolen, a number of years ago pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, now the Buchanan Street Methodist church of this city, was married Tuesday evening at Macon, Mo. As the Rev. Bolen is well known in Maryville, the following account of his wedding, taken from Wednesday's Macon Times-Democrat, will be of interest:

Rev. H. C. Bolen, pastor of the M. E. church, South, at Monroe City, and Mrs. Jessie Crawford of Shelbina, were united in marriage at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. B. D. Sipple, superintendent of this district, last night. They left last night for Shelbina, where they will visit for a few daye before going to Monroe City, where they will make their future home.

Rev. Bolen is one of the best known and popular ministers of that denomination in this part of Missouri, and was until the recent conference at Fayette, pastor of the church at Shelbina, being transferred at that time to Monroe City. He and Rev. Sipple have been close friends for many years.

The wedding was a very quiet affair, and in addition to the officiating minister and his family, the only people present were J. W. Thompson and family.

Mr. Bolen has been a widower a number of years, and while he has several children, all are married and none of them living at home. The lady whom he married is held in the highest esteem and is said to be a most stimable woman in every way.

NEWS FROM FRANCE

FRANK J. PERRY, WITH ALLIES, DESCRIBES ARMY LIFE.

WORLD-WAR DIFFERENT

Hitherto Armies Were Counted by Thousands—Now by Millions—Other News of Daily Routine.

Mrs. Frank J. Perry of this city has received a letter from her husband, who is a member of a Canadian regiment fighting on the front in France. Mr. Perry joined this regiment in Canada a number of months ago and went to England with them, and for the past two months they have been fighting in France.

Extracts from the letter are as follows:

"We are now in France and are playing the game. It is wonderful to see the enormity of this thing. You cannot begin to comprehend what it means. In all previous wars armies were counted in thousands but here it is in millions, and when you stop to think of all the equipment—guns and ammunition—and the amount of grub it takes to feed all these men and horses, the transportation facilities, and the system by which it is all carried on, it is wonderful.

"Aeroplanes are as common here as automobiles in Maryville. It is nothing to see five or six in the air at one time and very frequently we can see the Boches shooting at them. Our airmen go behind the German lines to see what is going on, but they seldom see anything over here. I think we have blown up the most of their sausage balloons.

"The report came in last night that two of our men got "bumped off" up the line some place a few nights ago. Too bad. Nice fellows they were, both of them—but such things will happen.

"Captain Webster, one of the best officers in the "50" got killed a few days ago, too. They had a funeral ceremony over what they could find of him—a leg and an arm, I understand.

"We are going to have a bath parade tomorrow, thank goodness. We haven't had a good scrub for two weeks.

"We are drawing only one franc (20 cents in your money) per day now, and I can tell you it doesn't go very far. I don't mean to say that our pay is reduced. The difference is merely held back until we leave here, so if we stay here any length of time we will all have enough money to buy some decent clothes anyway.

"The weather is getting bad now—rains every day, and it is getting cold, too.

"I hear that the "50" is camped close to us now, but I haven't seen any of them. I am going to go over and see them sometime when it is fair.

"We have very comfortable quarters here and are getting plenty to eat—better than we had in England— and I presume we have no right to complain, but it is the suspense and the anxiety that gets on your nerves.

"We saw quite a sight Sunday morning—counted twenty-five aeroplanes over us at one time and a short time after, a German plane came over our lines. Talk about shell fire—it was terrific, but they couldn't get them. They are hard to hit so high in the air."

PROF. EVRARD WAS NAMED

As Republican Candidate for State Superintendent of Schools by the State Committee.

I. N. Evrard, who is dean of the faculty of the Missouri Valley college at Marshall, Mo., and was an additional instructor at the State Normal school summer session, was named as the Republican candidate for state superintendent of schools by the Republican state committee in session in St. Louis yesterday. Will F. Phares, a member of the committee, and J. S. Shinabargar attended the meeting, returning to Maryville this morning.

Mr. Evrard is well known with the teachers of this county.

WHAT THE JOURNAL SAYS

About Hopkins and Pickering Being Taken Off of the Saints Trail.

Hopkins doesn't like being off on the Saints highway. The following is from this week's Hopkins Journal:

At a meeting in Maryville one day last week, the "high-muckie-mucks," whoever they may be, decided to drop Pickering and Hopkins from the Saints Auto Trail, routing it from Maryville to Bedford via the ridge road, east of us. If any one in this city regrets this move, we have not so far heard them express themselves. The logical road from Maryville to Bedford comes through Hopkins and Pickering and this is the one people will travel no matter whether it is called a trail or not. The road will remain marked and the travel will continue to come this way—or at least, all we want of it, especially when the roads are as dusty as they are at present.

Wonder if Maryville really thinks Pickering cares the "snap of her finger" about being banished from the Saints trail? Maryville is a hog and only wants another good road leading into Maryville from the ridge. The Saints trail never did Pickering any good—the people will all come this way anyway and if the Ridgeites can get any satisfaction in having thes "trail," they are sure welcome to it so far as this burg is concerned.

BULGARS REPULSED IN BATTLE AT FLORINA

Berlin Reports That Allies' Attacks on Greater Part of Somme Front Were Repulsed by the Grmans.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Rome, Sept. 28.—An Athens dispatch to the Tribuna states Greece has decided to enter the war.

No Official Confirmation Yet.

London, Sept. 28.—Announcement made by the foreign office that no official confirmation has been received of the reports that Greece has entered the war on the side of the allies. The News Agency reports from Athens that Greece had decided to join the allies were passed by the British censors.

Greece Declares War.

London, Sept. 28.—A Reuter dispatch from Athens states that a declaration of war by Greece against Bulgaria has been decided upon, and that the formal declaration is expected hourly.

It is reported that King Constantine and his family will go to Constantinople for the remainder of the war, says the Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen.

Fighting Strength of Greece.

Population, 4,821,000. Peace strength, 60,000 officrs and men. War strength, 300,000.

The Greek army maintains one company of aviators and one battalion of automobiles. Military service compulsory and lasts for a term of thirty-one years.

The navy consists of eleven battle ships and cruisers, the largest being a new one of 23,000 tons. It also has fourteen destroyers, six modern torpedo boats and two submarines.

The Bulgars Were Repulsed.

Paris, Sept. 28.—Another repulse for the Bulgars in western Greek Macedonia announced by the war office in the report of the Balkan operations. Two powerful attacks were delivered by the Bulgarians in an effort to retake Florina, but both were repulsed by the French and Russians. The German crown prince also flung his legion against the French at Thieaumony work, but the French held their ground. There was no infantry action in that section of the Somme front held by the French.

Allies' Attacks Repulsed by Germans.

Berlin, Sept. 28.—The French and British attacks on the greater part of the Somme front were repulsed by the Germans, the war office announced this afternoon.

German Submarine Activity.

London, Sept. 28.—Germany's latest outburst of submarine activity continues unabated. A dispatch from Lloyd's reported the destruction of two more vessels, one neutral.

Nature settled the dam affair down on the One Hundred and Two. The rain carried the dredge boat over the old dam and put an end to a troublesome little dam problem.

Did you ever watch the progress of a case in court when one side made up its case and the opposing side, instead of trying to prove anything, simply exercised its right to object to everything proposed? That is the position of Mr. Hughes in his campaign for the presidency. Mr. Wilson's case is made up. His testimony is in. The answer of Mr. Hughes is, "I object." He will be entitled to a medal as the great American objector.

In the absence of answers to the oft-repeated questions put to candidate Hughes, "What would you have done?" the best evidence is to be found in the company he keeps. Big business, the kind of business that has fattened on special favors, is behind Mr. Hughes. Big business is prospering, but Mr. Wilson has been trying to make it "tote fair" with little business and with the people generally, and big business doesn't fancy that kind of a president. The time might come when it would be desirable to put over something special and Mr. Wilson could not be relied on. Mr. Hughes, by his opposition to the income tax, by his veto of the 2-cent fare bill, by his veto of the bill allowing women teachers equal pay with men, and numerous other acts while governor of New York, tending to show that his sympathies were with wealth and against the less favored, has made his alignment certain. If it had been otherwise, the powers who controlled things at Chicago would not have permitted his nomination and they would not now be pouring money into the Republican campaign fund. The people can vote this year with their eyes wide open. They will make their choice between a man who has shown himself to be their friend and protector and one who has not. If they throw away their birthright, there will be no one else to blame.

WHAT WOULD REPUBLICANS DO?

(From St. Louis Post-Dispatch).

If the Republican party should be returned to power in the coming national election, does any one living know what it would do? Everyone knows where the Democrats stand, and where Mr. Wilson stands, but how about the Republicans and Mr. Hughes?

Senator Lodge is making campaign speeches in Massachusetts in which he repeatedly declares the income tax is an outrage. Mr. Hughes was opposed to the income tax when he was Governor of New York. Is it the Republican party's plan to repeal that legislation?

A certain element—and a large one—in the Republican party wants an embargo on the shipment of munitions to the Allies. Is that the Republican plan, or is it not?

A certain element—and an influential one—demands intervention in Mexico. Is that the Republican plan, or is it not?

A certain element—and an influential one—demands active participation in the European war on the side of the Allies. Is that the Republican plan, or is it not?

A certain element—and a large one—demands a sky-high tariff on imports, while another element opposes it. Which is the real Republican plan?

A certain element—and a large one—condemns the recent Adamson eight-hour law. Is it the Republican party's intention to repeal it and force a railroad strike?

A certain element—the banking interest—has already begun an insidious campaign which presages an attack on the Federal reserve bank act. Is it the Republican party's plan to repeal it? Will it substitute for the present system a central bank controlled by Wall street?

The Democratic party has established a panic-proof banking system, has emancipated farmers from the clutches of mortgage sharks, banished dollar diplomacy, abolished government by injunction, chased lobbies into obscurity, provided for government aid in the building of good roads, emancipated child labor, forced the greatest military power in the world to respect American rights on the seas without one drop of blood being shed; it has taken the tariff question out of politics and made it what it is, an economic problem only; it has made the first provision in forty years for an adequate navy and an improved army; it has, in scores of ways, put into effect the most progressive and advanced ideas for the betterment of the entire people—too many, indeed, to enumerate further.

How much of this legislation does the Republican party propose to repeal?

These are perfectly fair questions. Mr. Hughes will not answer them. No Republican leader or newspaper organ will answer them. They will sneer at the things the Democratic party has done, but they have nothing to say when the voter inquires: "What would you do?"

The most rabid, uncompromising Republican organ in the United States, the Boston Transcript, has said: "All the good legislation of the Democratic administration can be written on the back of a postage stamp with a white-wash brush." We doubt very much if that kind of political argument convinces anyone. It ought, indeed, to make Democratic votes.

We repeat—if the Rpublican party should be returned to power in the coming election, what would it do?

No platitudes in reply, if you please.

MOVIE "CHILDREN'S DAY"

Special to the Democrat-Forum.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 28.—To raise the standard of moving pictures for children by securing state-wide observances of a "children's day" each week at the "movies," the Indianapolis board of indorsers of junior moving pictures has begun a movement to make its organization state-wide. In this city last winter, a large theater was rented and each Saturday morning censored children's pictures were given. Now, it is planned to get the moving picture owners, many of whom already have offered co-operation, to set aside one night or Saturday morning of each week, when a picture particularly appealing to children shall be shown.

TOWN AND COUNTRY INTERESTS.

Why should the affairs of the farmer interest the city voters? a thoughtless citizen asks.

The interests of town and country are one. The city man should be as much concerned about the welfare of his farmer friend as he is about his next-door neighbor. His immediate community is not dependent; its prosperity depends upon the country which supports it.

Unquestionably the Democratic party has done more for the farmers in a few years than was ever done before in the entire history of the country. And the city man shares in the benefit of these accomplishments. He should vote for the farmers' friends, in state and nation.

The appeal for a closer co-operation between town and country never was more strongly and sincerely voiced than by Frederick D. Gardner, who has made this the keynote of his campaign. An extensive system of rural credits, better roads, better schools, interurban electric lines, will build up the country districts of Missouri. And the cities gain therefrom by developing greater markets and industries.

No ticket in the history of Missouri ever had candidates who were in closer touch with the people of the rural districts than the Democratic nominees who will be elected in November.

Wallace Crossley for lieutenant governor, is thoroughly in accord with Mr. Gardner in his policies. John L. Sullivan, for secretary of state; John P. Gordon, for state auditor; George H. Middlekamp, for state treasurer; Frank W. McAllister, for attorney general; A. M. Woodson and Fred L. Williams, for judges of the supreme court—all received their nominations at the hands of the farmer voters.

They are in sympathy with the aims and aspirations of the country people. They understand the farmers' needs. They will do everything possible to promote the best interest of the folks on the farm.

On the other hand, the head of the Republican ticket owes his nomination entirely to city voters—the ward bosses of St. Louis—and they will receive first consideration in tax matters as well as all other matters.

The Republican party for a generation neglected the farmer. Their whole thought and efforts were directed to promoting and protecting trusts and monopolies in every line of industry while the agricultural classes suffered.

Well Dressed or Over Dressed

Sometimes on the street you'll see a fellow dressed in every color of the rainbow, with clothes cut on extreme lines. Everything about his make-up fairly speaks for itself. He's overdressed.

Just behind him comes a man whose clothes display every indication of good taste—clean cut suit; modish hat; shirt, necktie and hose blending into the entire color scheme. He's well-dressed.

There's a lot to be gained by dealing at one store for your clothes, where an interest is taken in helping you make selections that fit into each other. In our store we try to display good taste in buying stock and keep away from they "noisy" combinations that startle even the wearer.

Drop in a minute or two and we will show you some new things. There's a fine lot of Clothcraft suits and overcoats just arrived, and every one of them is a stylish, well fitting, guaranteed all-wool garment at $10.00 to $22.00. Hart, Schaffner & Marx at $20, $22.50, $25,00, $27.50 and $30.00.

OYSTER "PLUMPING"

To Be Checked by Federal Department and to Prevent Such Shipment.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Sept. 28.—With the opening of the oyster season, oyster shipping concerns, engaged in interstate commerce, are being closely watched by federal inspectors to prevent the shipment of polluted oysters or oysters that have been subjected to the soaking process to increase their bulk.

Secretary of Agriculture Houston announced today that oyster dealers generally have expressed a desire to co-operate with the department in securing grades of oysters that are free from adulteration. Active steps have been taken to stamp out the practice of permitting oysters to absorb water by the so-called "plumping" method, or by the introduction of an excess of free liquid in containers in which oysters are shipped.

HIGH PRAISE FOR THE FOURTH.

District and Brigade Commanders are Pleased With Missouri Regiment.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Laredo, Tex., Sept. 28.—The following high commendation of the Fourth Missouri Regiment, of which the Maryville company is a member, was posted in the orders of the day at brigade headquarters at Fort McIntosh today:

"The district commander, Brig. Gen. William A. Mann, and the brigade commander, General Clarke, accompanied by the aid-de-camp of the former, went to Santa Rosa Ranch yesterday morning to observe the marching and going into camp of the Fourth Missouri Infantry, commanded by Colonel McNeily. General Mann was very much pleased with the start and conduct of the march and he particularly noticed the absence of straggling to the front and in rear of the command.

Elected to Kappa Sigs.

Forrest S. Gillam of Maryville was elected a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity last week at the University of Missouri, Columbia.

W. R. C. to Meet.

The members of the W. R. C. are requested to meet at their hall at 7 o'clock this evening for the purpose of attending the revival meeting with the old soldiers.—By order of the Patriotic Instructor.

Were Married Tuesday.

William A. New and Mrs. Ida Bridger drove to Maryville Tuesday, where they were united in holy wedlock, and will make their home in this city, occupying the Bridgr property in East Hopkins. Both have many friends in thi scommunity who extend congratulations and best wishes.—Hopkins Journal.

Celebrate Anniversaries.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Coe entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday night in honor of Dr. Coe's birthday anniversary, and also in honor of the wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Karl Malotte. Covers were laid for Dr. and Mrs. Malotte and children, Mrs. Gay Leeper, Miss Margaret Louise Hosmer and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Craig.

Birthday Dinner.

Last Friday being Mrs. D. D. Bollinger's birthday, she was hostess to an informal dinner party. A splendid dinner was served at which plates were laid for ten guests. The company was entertained with vocal and instrumental music and all had a happy time.

Mrs. Bollinger carries herself like a girl of 16, and on her sixty-fourth birthday danced the twolstep to the music on the graphaphone.

The company were sorry when the lengthening shadows said it was time to go home, all wishing the hostess many more happy birthdays.—Hopkins Journal.

The L. I. Club.

The L. I. club enjoyed a study and social afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. G. Massie last Thursday. Roll call was responded to and the study subject was the effect of house flies on the health of the community. Following the business session and study hour a social hour was had, the older ones doing fancy work while the younger ones gave musical selections. A list of the numbers given were: "Oklahoma Sunset and Sunny Jim," by Misses Mildred and Lulu Massie; a piano solo by Miss Valta Pope and Miss Maud Pope; a song, "When She Wore a Tulip and I a Big Red Rose," by Miss Beatrice Dowling. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

For Son's Birthday.
Glen Trullinger, Host.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trullinger entertained with a party last night in honor of the fifteenth birthday anniversary of their son, Glen Trullinger. The guests were each given a match and led into the darkened dining room where they were requested to light the candles on the birthday cake. A two-course luncheon was then served by Mrs. Trullinger, after which the boys played ball until time for the revival.

Abundance of New Fall Styles to Choose From

ALMOST unusual showing of Tailored Suits, Coats, Blouses and Hats are now on display in our Ready-to-Wear Department. Come in and inspect this new apparel—you will recognize the almost endless choice offered.

The tailored suits are of the Wooltex and other high-standard makes that are guaranteed to give satisfaction.

The suit jackets vary in length from thirty-two to forty-two inches, the thirty-four inch length being the most popular. Both suit jackets and separate coats rely upon their collars and cuffs for the novelty note—there being a wide variety of collar and cuff effects to select from.

The skirts are of the flaring type, in a tendency toward the straighter lines. Plaits and shirrings are introduced to give the straight figure without sacrificing the fullness.

The display of materials is most interesting in its range and variety. Broadcloths, velours, gabardines, serges and whipcords are the most popular. The wanted colors are rich purple, gray, green, brown, Burgundy, and the ever smart navy blues and black.

Dainty Blouses

The beautiful new blouses now on display are developed from Georgette crepe, crepe de Chine, tub silks and taffetas. They are in flesh, white, maize, navy blue and combined colors and stripes. The styles are the very latest.

Complete range of sizes, priced at $2.50 to $8.75.

A SPECIAL SHOWING of GAGE "MI-SAISON" HAT'S

Gage 'Mi-Saison' Hats

Charming headwear created by artistic designers, under Parisian inspiration, composes the Gage Mid-Season assortment of trimmed hats now on display in our millinery department. We urge your early inspection of this special showing. It is our aim to see that each of these hats finally reaches the wearer it is most suited for. Get your new fall hat now from this unusual assortment.

The guests presented Glen with a beautiful silk tie in memory of the occasion.

Those present were: J. Russell Robey, Louis Howard, Paul Robey, Dorcie Childress, Paul Brown, Laverne Robey, Harry Trullinger and the host.

Miss Nellie Morford Weds.

Miss Nellie Myrtle Morford, daughter of Mrs. Lee Morford, and Albert Harris of Weston, Mo., were married last night at the home of the bride, near Pickering.

The bride was gowned in a beautiful costume of dark blue taffeta, trimmed with Georgette crepe, and wore a hat to match. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The ring ceremony was gone through most impressively by the Rev. E. H. Hutchison, pastor of the Christian church of Pickering.

After the ceremony a luncheon was served by the mother of the bride to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Harrington and daughter, Thelma, of Savannah, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Harman and Mrs. Rose Harman and Mr. and Mrs. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris left this morning for St. Joseph, where they will make their home. Mr. Harris is a graduate of the University of Missouri. He was principal of the Pickering school last year and has been engaged in the occupation of teaching for the last ten years. He is now in the insurance business.

Miss Morford was born and reared in Pickering, and for the last three years has been telephone operator for the Farmers Telephone company at Pickering.

In this work, as well as in her social connections, she has made numerous friends, being the possessor of an exceptionally pleasant disposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris will be at home to their friends after October 7 at 807 Green street, St. Joseph.

Head Consul Will be Here.

Mr. Manlove of Kansas City, head consul of the State of Missouri, and District Deputy Bettis of St. Joseph will attend the meeting of the Woodmen of the World in Maryville Monday night.

EDGE WINS IN NEW JERSEY.

Will Be G. O. P. Gubernatorial Nominee—Frelinghuysen for Senate.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 28.—With the returns lacking from only 146 districts in the state, Walter E. Edge had a lead tonight of 2,537 votes over Austen Colgate, his closest rival in Tuesday's three-cornered primary contest for the Republican nomination for governor. Ex-State Senator Joseph F. Frelinghuysen won the Republican nomination for United States senator from Ex-Gov. Franklin Murphy. With the 146 districts missing, Frelinghuysen has 80,367 votes as compared with 75,580 for Murphy.

The nomination of Senator James E. Martine by the Democrats for United States senator to succeed himself was conceded by his opponent, Attorney General John W. Wescott.

A MARYVILLE INTERVIEW.

Mrs. Snyder Tells Her Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Maryville woman over three years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Mrs. R. Snyder, 1008 East Third street, Maryville, says: "My kidneys bothered me for some time. I had pain across my kidneys. I felt tired all the time and couldn't rest well at night. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me great relief, the pain from my kidneys leaving. The feeling of languor disappeared and my health improved." (Statement given October 2, 1912.)

On June 12, 1916, Mrs. Snyder said: "It hasn't been necessary for me to use a kidney medicine for about two years now, so I know Doan's Kidney Pills have given me permanent benefit. I gladly endorse this medicine again, for my opinion of it has never lessened."

ENCOURAGES POOR

Humble British Subjects Enlightened by Queen Mary.

WARMLY GREETED ON VISIT.

Her Majesty Goes to District Where Honor Rolls Hang In Respect to Loved Ones and Takes Pains to Recognize Sacrifices Poor Are Making.

London.—The poor people living in some of the districts of London have invented a simple way of honoring their men folk who have gone to the war. In each street they hang a roll of honor on a convenient wall, and each roll is kept freshly garlanded with flowers by the women and children.

Queen Mary heard of the custom and made a tour through South Hackney, the district in which the custom originated, in order to show her approval of what the poor people were doing. The queen found the streets which she proposed to visit so thronged with women and children that she stopped her car, got out and talked and shook hands with scores of the poor people who crowded about her. To each roll of honor she visited she pinned a flower.

"You're a mother yourself, Queen Mary," said one woman, "and you've sent boys to the war. So you know how mothers feel, and I suppose that's why you are here?"

"I know," said the queen, smiling, "and that is why I am here. How many sons have you got out at the war?"

"Four, your majesty."

"Keep a brave heart," said the queen.

This visit of Queen Mary to poorer London is one of the many delightful ways in which on her own initiative she has come into contact during the period of the war with the lives of the humblest of King George's subjects. She takes pains to recognize how great are the sacrifices which the poor are making for their country.

HONEST GIRL GETS LOT.

She Returned a Diamond and Was Rewarded by a Capitalist.

Cincinnati.—Beatrice Bunning, fourteen years old, of South Fort Thomas, Ky., has been presented with a lot 50 by 150 feet by Blair P. Wilson of Huntington, W. Va., a capitalist.

Beatrice was blackberry picking when she found what she thought was a piece of glass. She saw Wilson inspecting some grading and showed the "glass" to him. The instant Wilson saw the "glass" he felt his tie. He found his diamond stud valued at $875 missing. "I've lost my diamond; let me see what you found," he said.

The piece of "glass" was his diamond. "I am a lucky man to get it back so quickly, and you are a lucky girl to find it," he said to Miss Bunning. "I'm going to give you one of these lots."

GET FEWER "DEAD LETTERS."

In Four Years Number Sent to Washington Decreased 3,000,000.

Washington.—The dead letter office of the postoffice department received the greatest number of undelivered letters and packages in 1911 when they numbered 13,614,416.

Since that time there has been a decrease each year and in 1915 the number was 10,781,927. Each year there is a sale of articles found in letters for which the department is unable to find owners. The proceeds of this sale last year amounted to $38,514.

Relatives In One Company.

Mount Gilead, O.—When Company A, Cardington, of the Fourth Ohio regiment, went to Camp Willis it had eleven pairs of brothers, two pairs of fathers and sons and fourteen men over six feet in height. Company A is the youngest in the state, having only been mustered into service June 8, eleven days before the mobilization call. It has 100 members.

Three Thumbs Too Many.

Atchison, Kan.—Three thumbs were too many, so Johnson Koutras, an Italian of this city, had one of them amputated recently. Koutras' extra thumb had grown out from the second joint of the thumb on his right hand and was as well formed as the other two.

NEW TRIMMINGS.

Lace flouncings will be much used for godet insertions. Especially to be noted is the cream fillet through which are interminglied gold threads. All imitations of black chantilly will be sought for, and this will hold true of any fine black lace with an irregular pattern and background.

Dull and bright silks will be used on the same lace with a background net of irregular size, usually large and of fine thread. While there will be much metal lace in evidence, it will be much heavier. Nothing will be better to make the plaited dresses of than the point d'esprit in black, white and colors.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success

DR. DRAKE, SPECIALIST, HAS PERMANENTLY LOCATED HIS BRANCH OFFICE IN MARYVILLE.

Is it any wonder that Dr. Drake's offices are crowded when such wonderful results are being obtained? It is a known fact that Dr. Drake treats more people for less money than any other specialists in this part of the country. Through his honest efforts and years of experience as Specialist in Chronic Diseases he has built up a practice which extends into several different states, and it is not at all unusual to see patients in his office who have journeyed many miles to consult him.

Hundreds of testimonials are on file from people he has cured. If he finds a case is incurable, the patient is given good and wholesome advice FREE OF CHARGE. It is this honest method which has made Dr. Drake the most popular Consulting Specialist in the country.

If you are suffering from any chronic disease, even though you have been pronounced incurable by others, don't fail to consult Dr. Drake. Many sufferers have been restored to health and happiness who have all but given up in despair.

Dr. Drake always offered consultation and examination free, and always will. You cannot afford to delay; consult Dr. Drake at once; it may mean your everlasting gratitude, and remember it is always FREE.

"Nothing Succeeds Like Success," and Dr. Drake's success as a specialist in Missouri stands without a parallel in the history of the State. In other words, Dr. Drake has made good, and his many satisfied patients are constantly sending others.

READ THE FOLLOWING LETTER.

Amity, Mo.

Dr. Drake:

I have been thinking of writing to you for some time, but have delayed it, to be sure that I was cured.

I am the most satisfied person you nearly ever saw. Thank God for such doctors and men. May God ever bless you in your work. I am well and sound; feel better than I have in fourteen or fifteen years. I can now do my housework, gardening, raise chickens and take good care of my childrn. I scarcely ever get tired or feel bad. In fact, no one would know that I am the same person.

I will try to get every sick person to go to you if they want to be cured. I am a living testimonial of the good you can do suffering humanity.

Again hoping you well, and God's blessing on you in all your work, I remain, Your friend,

Route 2. MRS. PHILIP THOMPSON.
